

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ON MILITARY INSTALLATIONS PROGRAM

Wednesday July 16, 2014

On July 16, 2014, the Department of Defense announced the latest school design and construction grants from the Office of Economic Adjustment (OEA) of $34,131,479 to San Diego Unified School District, for renovation and expansion of Doris Miller and Joy Bright Hancock Elementary Schools at Naval Base San, Diego, California; $23,798,603 to Fairfax County Public Schools, for renovation and expansion of Fort Belvoir Elementary School at Fort Belvoir, Virginia; and $4,669,872 to Fallbrook Union Elementary School District for design of new Mary Fay Pendleton and San Onofre Elementary/Middle Schools.

The San Diego Unified School District will use its grants to renovate, repair and construct new classrooms at Doris Miller and Joy Bright Hancock Elementary Schools to address the capacity and facility condition deficiencies that placed these schools on the Deputy Secretary of Defense “Public Schools on Military Installations Priority List” (Priority List) at #23 and #27, respectively. Together, the two schools will serve over 1,350 military connected students in grades pre-kindergarten through fifth.

Fairfax County Public Schools will use its grant to renovate, repair and construct new classrooms at Fort Belvoir Elementary School to address the capacity and facility condition deficiencies that placed the school on the Deputy Secretary of Defense Priority List at #26. The school will serve over 1,590 military connected students in grades kindergarten through sixth.

The Fallbrook Union Elementary School District will use its grants to design two new schools to replace Mary Fay Pendleton and San Onofre Elementary/Middle Schools to address the capacity and facility condition deficiencies that placed these schools on the Deputy Secretary of Defense Priority List at #21 and #22, respectively. When constructed, the two schools will serve over 1,850 military connected students in grades kindergarten through eighth.

Funding for these grants is provided under the Department’s Public Schools on Military Installations Program. Previously, OEA awarded the following school construction grants:

- January 7, 2014 - $16.2M to Albuquerque Public Schools - Kirtland Air Force Base, NM (#11 on the Priority List); and $16M Geary County Unified School District 475 - Fort Riley, KS(#20 on the Priority List);
- November 19, 2013 - $16.3M to the Tooele County School District – Dugway Proving Ground, UT (#17 on the Priority List);
- June 3, 2013, - $90.7M to the Clover Park School District – Joint Base Lewis-McChord, WA (#13, #16, and #19);
- February 28, 2013 - $26.6M to the Hawaii Department of Education – Wheeler Schofield Army Air Field, HI (#9);
- January 22, 2013 - $1.1M to the Muroc Joint Unified School District – Edwards Air force Base, CA (#8);
- December 10, 2012 - $57.2M to the Sierra Sands Unified School District – Naval Air

Weapons Station China Lake, CA (#4 & #10); $18.1M to the Vernon Parish School District – Fort Polk, LA (#6); $35.3M to the Geary County Unified School District – Fort Riley, KS (#7);

- September 14, 2012 - $37.1M to the Lawton Public Schools – Fort Sill, OK (#3/#12);
- June 25, 2012 - $46.4M to the Clover Park School District – Joint Base Lewis McChord, WA (#2/#5); and
- May 14, 2012 - $13.2M to the El Paso Independent School District – Fort Bliss, TX (#1).

OEA, in making these funds available, must give priority consideration to those military installations with schools having the most serious capacity or facility condition deficiencies, as determined by the July 2011 Deputy Secretary of Defense Priority List.

A multi-disciplined Federal Evaluation Team, with membership from the Office of the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness, the Military Services, U.S. Department of Education, and OEA, conducted a review of these projects to ensure these awards were appropriate for the noted capacity and facility deficiencies.

The remaining unobligated funds appropriated for this program to assist other local education agencies in addressing the most serious capacity or facility condition deficiencies at public schools located on military installations may be subject to future sequestration reductions.

$16.3M Grant awarded on January 3, 2014, to Albuquerque Public Schools (APS), Albuquerque, New Mexico – Kirtland Air Force Base (KAFB), New Mexico – The $16,250,000 award with a non-Federal matching share of $3,366,203 for a total $19,616,203 project, will remedy capacity and facility condition deficiencies that placed Wherry Elementary School as the eleventh school on the July 2011 Deputy Secretary of Defense Priority List. APS currently leases land from KAFB for the school. APS will construct the new 500 student school for grades kindergarten through five, and demolish the old school in coordination with the 377th Wing Command at KAFB, and will then own, operate, and maintain the new school.

$16.1M Grant awarded on January 3, 2014, to Geary County Unified School District 475, Junction City, Kansas – Fort Riley, Kansas – The $16,096,000 award with a non-Federal matching share of $4,024,000 for a total $20,120,000 project, will remedy capacity and facility condition deficiencies that placed Fort Riley Elementary School as the twentieth school on the July 2011 Deputy Secretary of Defense Priority List. GCUSD will lease the land for the school from Fort Riley, construct the new 500 student school for grades kindergarten through five, in coordination with the Fort Riley Garrison, and will then own, operate, and maintain the new school.

$13.2M Grant awarded on November 19, 2013, to the Tooele County School District (TCSD), Tooele, Utah – Dugway Proving Ground (DPG), Utah – The $13,201,995 award with a non-Federal matching share of $2,684,271 for a total $15,886,266 project, will remedy capacity and facility condition deficiencies that placed Dugway High School as the seventeenth school on the July 2011 Deputy Secretary of Defense Priority List. TCSD currently leases land from DPG for the school. TCSD will construct the new 120 student school for grades seven through twelve, and demolish the old school in coordination with the Garrison at DPG, and will then own, operate, and maintain the new school.
